

Every day, thousands of live cams allow us to admire striking panoramic views: lakes, parks, seaside resorts, squares, monuments and all the wonders of nature, history and architecture generously have to offer. Statistics show that pages populated by live cams are among the most visited by Internet users, that is an index of their liking and of the increasing attention of users in this engaging form of communication. As a matter of fact, today people are more and more likely to choose, through the internet, their preferred destination for holidays. The first impression is crucial: the cam must be able to convey emotions, giving the feeling of looking out the window of your facility or location!
